RESILIENT LOVE

in a time of hate

SERIES

UCSB's Division of Student Affairs launches the Resilient Love series, and asks how we can respond ethically and honorably to hate and violence. Featuring visiting artists and academics, it seeks to promote conversation and creative work that will forge a love-driven response to hate, hurt, and fear. Students, staff, faculty and community members are welcome to join.

AN EVENING WITH TIM WISE

a white anti-racist advocate

As part of the Resilient Love in a Time of Hate series, prominent author, educator and anti-racist activist Tim Wise will speak about the importance of being a white ally to communities of color, and how we can all work together to create a healthier community for our campus and the world beyond. Q&A session to follow after lecture.

Tim Wise has spent the past 25 years speaking on over 1000 college and high school campuses, at hundreds of conferences, and to community groups across the nation. Wise is the author of seven books, including his highly-acclaimed memoir, White Like Me: Reflections on Race from a Privileged Son.
