History Scholar-Activism: Living Our Work

Monday, Feb. 3rd,
4:00-5:30 pm,
History and Social Sciences Bldg. (HSSB) 4080.

Join us as we talk about how we—as historians and historians in training—approach our work as “scholar-activists” within the context of the academy. While not all of us identify as “scholar-activists,” we work with social justice and equity in mind.

Themes

Methodology:

What does that look like? How do we describe it and/or think about it?

Historiography:

What is it? How is it relevant to my work? And, where do I fit in?

Theory:

What does theory look like in history? Can I talk about theory? Where and how can I learn more? Will my colleagues accept me?
